CITIZENS' MASS MEETING.

Burbank People Assemble at Burbank
M. E. Church and Perfect Organization for Defense of Water Rights.

A quiet word was passed down the line on Monday morning in the Burbank community which resulted in the gathering together at the Methodist Church that evening of some 200 honest, intelligent and determined ranchers, who came to consult together for the purpose of perfecting a permanent organization and to discuss the situation as regards the water question and the method of procedure to be adopted under the restraining order of the court enjoining them from pumping water from their own wells.

Rev. Fletcher Pomeroy called the meeting to order and after a brief explanation and reading of appropriate verses of Scripture which was followed by an impressive prayer by the minister of the Holiness Church, Mr. D. S. Nickerson was elected chairman of the meeting. After a few remarks by the chairman, Mr. Doan was elected secretary.

Rev. Pomeroy said that he believed that if the situation was made clear to the people of Los Angeles that public sentiment would be so strong against the enforcement of the injunction that the matter would be held in abeyance until the case was brought before the United States Supreme Court on appeal. Mr. Pomeroy further stated that he believed the farmers should continue to pump as necessity demanded, but not with the intention of antagonizing the city.

Mr. D. A. Kughen stated that he did not intend to violate the law no matter how great the provocation might be, and that he thought the well owners should act in accordance with the advice of defense's attorneys.

Mr. Ed Pomeroy, who has made many and thorough tests of the water level at different seasons of the year, stated that at the time the injunction was issued the water level was just beginning to raise and that had the wells been shut down no doubt the claim would have been made that the increase was due to that fact.

Talks by Messrs. Luttge, Kughen, Radcliff, Oestergard, Wyckoff, Craig, Ed. Fischer, Myron M. Griswold and others were to the effect that there was no intention to defy the court, but that in order to prevent utter ruination it was necessary that sufficient water be used to keep the growing crops alive.

Miss Mattie Martenson suggested that inasmuch as it seemed altogether unlikely that relief was to be obtained by appealing to Los Angeles, a petition be circulated throughout the valley and the city of Los Angeles for signatures of citizens protesting against the enforcement of the injunction and when sufficient signatures had been secured a representative be sent from the valley to Washington, there to lay the situation before President Roosevelt with the hope that he would make an investigation of the facts, and should he deem the matter of sufficient importance that he would bring such influences as consistent to bear to the end that relief may be granted as speedily as possible from an intolerable situation.

On motion, it was decided to elect a committee of five to draft a petition in accordance with Miss Martenson's suggestion. Miss Martenson, Mr. Martin, Ed Pomeroy, M. Griswold and E. M. McClure were elected a committee of five to draft a petition and to exercise unlimited power in appointing other committees and to collect such moneys as might be deemed necessary to carry this work to a successful conclusion.

On motion, the action of the well owners in offering to pump water for the city was endorsed.

The matter of the visit of the Los Angeles County Weekly Country Press Association to the valley was brought before the meeting, and a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered the association and E. M. McClure for the publication of the facts relating to the ample water supply and the unjust attitude of some of Los Angeles' officials in trying to impose an injustice upon the people of this valley.

On motion, it was unanimously voted to make the organization permanent.

A harmonious spirit was evidenced throughout the proceedings and if Mr. Mulholland or any of his cowardly crew could have been made to know of the righteous determination of the honest, intelligent and true American men and women assembled, to have justice in this water litigation, he or his followers would not jump at the conclusion that they will have an easy task in bringing about the ruination of this valley and the future prospects of its inhabitants. These people are united and working for the maintenance of true American liberty and justice and they will not be despoiled of their homes without fighting to the last ditch.

It is a deplorable fact that the water officials seem to be led blindly by this man Mulholland, for certainly if they knew of the true conditions as they exist in this valley, they would discharge Mulholland and put in his place a man who would give them facts regarding the available water supply that the city can secure any time it will put its pumps to work at the city's different pumping stations throughout the valley.

The meeting adjourned to reconvene at call of the chair.

At the Presbyterian church the topic of the morning sermon will be: "Astonishment at Christ." The evening sermon will be especially designed to interest the young people, on the topic: "God Revealing Himself."

CHILDS AVENUE MATTER SET- TLED.

At the meeting of the board of trustees on Wednesday evening the matter of opening up Childs avenue was brought up by the board and the city engineer was requested to make a report of the number of feet of property that had been signed up for and against the opening of the proposed street. The engineer reported that the opposition had secured 29940 feet, which is 3940 feet more than one-half the frontage. Chairman Parcher stated that while the board felt that the blocking of this proposed improvement was a mistake on the part of the protestants, still the board was there to represent the wishes of the majority, and that he thought the street ought not to be opened against the wishes of the majority of those who would be most directly affected. Trustee Anderson made a motion to the effect that the proceedings in relation to the opening of Childs avenue be abandoned and after being seconded by Trustee Watson, the matter was put to a vote and carried. There is no question but there should be more streets opened north and south between Glendale avenue and Verdugo road, but a number of the property owners in the immediate vicinity of where it was proposed to open this avenue, felt that the expense of such improvement would be greater than they could meet at this time and under the method which would have been used in assessing the expense. Some method whereby the expense of opening new streets might be more generally distributed ought to be adopted, and the matter should be arranged at once as the future growth of Glendale depends largely upon the character of its streets, and there should be many more than we have at the present time.

WHY NOT HAVE A REPRESEN- TATIVE FROM THIS VALLEY?

This valley has never before had a candidate for any office in any party. Therefore we feel entitled to some consideration.

Mr. E. D. Goode has never been a candidate for any office, but has been a tireless worker for the state and national Democratic ticket, but has always been and says he always will be independent in local politics. He has served for years as road overseer under both Democratic and Republican administrations, has lived here for 20 years, is broad gauge and progressive, and has been one of the leaders in every enterprise for the development of the whole community.

He was not present at the late convention, was not a candidate and did not know he had received the nomination until he read it in the papers next morning. His first thought was to withdraw, but his friends are insisting on him to make the fight.

Mr. Goode has no machine or any other strings on him, and although he has a big Republican majority to overcome, his friends believe he can succeed if any one can, and they will give him hearty support.

ARTISTIC GLENDALE HOMES.

Bungalow and Cottage Architecture Favor With Local Histrions.

In the interesting fact that more than a dozen members of one of the local theatrical stock companies own, or are buying or building bungalows and cottages for permanent residence, is another good bit of evidence that home ownership in and around the city is steadily increasing.

The Burbank players are, numerically, at least, the first in the building business among the Los Angeles theatrical companies. John Burton enthusiastically testifies that nothing of the kind ever happened before.

H. S. Duffield and his wife, who has been long and favorably known to audiences as Miss Phosa McAllister, have located in a picturesque bungalow-cottage combination of architecture on Lomita avenue, Glendale. They own the lot, 100 by 175 feet, and have nearly completed the interior adornment of the residence. Mrs. Duffield designed the house. It contains six rooms, the parlors in brown-stained, hand-craft style and the other rooms finished in light oak. The property cost $3000.

Up the avenue a couple of country blocks is the home of Henry Stockbridge and his wife, who was Miss Fannie Yantis. To be topographically accurate, the house is on Lomita avenue, close to its intersection with Glendale avenue.

Nine months ago Mr. and Mrs. Stockbridge paid $2000 for the lot on which the residence was built and two adjoining lots. A cobblestone fireplace in the living room is one of the many artistic features of the home. The story is out that Mr. Stockbridge carried these stones, one by one, from the mountain tops beyond Casa Verdugo, but it is altogether out of harmony with the jingling of the guineas in the pockets of some of the farm folk.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris of the Burbank company have a pretty place on Figueroa street and are preparing to build on property they own in the Glendale region.

Henry Glazier has a lot adjoining the Stockbridge residence at Glendale and in his scant intervals of rest between Napoléons and Svengalis he is planning a comfortable little home... Examiner.

Almighty Mulholland says that he has no further responsibility in the Los Angeles' San Fernando valley water supply since the well owners of the valley have been enjoined from further pumping. The trouble about Mulholland is that he never was responsible and never will be responsible as long as he can continue pulling the wool over the eyes of the taxpayers of Los Angeles. Any man who can swear to conditions hundreds of feet underground but is not certain of things which can be seen on the surface of the earth, is surely irresponsible and should be removed from the position of superintendent of a great city's water department.

CITY TRUSTEES.

Regular meeting Wednesday evening Sept. 26, all members being present. A number of demands were read and some were allowed and a number referred to finance committee.

The bill of Riggs and McClure for publishing ordinances, etc., was referred back for correction.

A communication from the Salt Lake company, regarding cars standing in the street in violation of city ordinance, was read and it was decided to communicate further with the company to the end that some action may be taken looking to the immediate settlement of the difficulty.

The superintendent of streets was authorized to post notices warning people not to drive over city walks as it is in violation of city ordinance.

Chairman Parcher appointed a committee consisting of trustees Fansett, Watson and the chair and the city attorney to look after the improvement of Fourth street.

Request, to improve under private contract the Glendale Park tract, from Holman & Campbell, was on motion granted.

Basket-ball at the Rink

Those who journeyed to the skating rink last evening were more than repaid for their trouble, for the basketball on skates, combined with the races, was something that Glendale has not witnessed before. The team captained by John Wilde won the game by the score of 13-9. We must take into consideration that the defeated boys were much smaller and, take it as a whole, team work considered, the losers played far the best game, for the winners were always scattered and played very little, if any, team work at all. The defeated boys expect to have a return game in two weeks. Next Friday a basketball game will be played between the Tropico and Glendale teams. The managers of the rink will endeavor to have some athletics of this kind every Friday evening.

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL EVENT.

Mrs. Dan Campbell entertained with a reception at her beautiful foothill home, Ard Eevin, on Saturday afternoon, September 22nd.

The pleasant hours sped all too soon in playing a magazine game, in which Miss Ballantyne won first prize, Miss Hickman second prize, while Mrs. Albright was awarded the consolation.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the reception hall being very attractive in sun flowers, the parlors in white and pink roses, and the den in ivy geraniums.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon by Reynolds, the caterer of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Campbell was assisted in receiving by her sister, Miss McPeak, Mrs. D. H. Imler and Miss Hickman. Over sixty invitations were sent.

Petition

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, Los Angeles County, California.

Whereas: It is proposed to build a city hall in the City of Glendale, to cost ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00), on Lot No. 26, Block No. 21, of the Township of Glendale, as same is recorded in the Recorder's office of Los Angeles County, said lot having been already conditionally donated for this purpose; and

Whereas, it is proposed to raise a fund of thirty-seven thousand dollars ($37,000) to be expended by our city for the encouragement and securing of good roads, the city to pay one-half and the abutting property and the owners to pay the other half of the expense of grading and oiling the same, whenever the owners, representing a majority of the frontage on any street, petition therefor and agree thereto.

Now, therefore, we the undersigned electors and taxpayers of the city of Glendale, do hereby petition your honorable body to call a special election as soon as may be advisable; to determine whether our city shall issue bonds running forty years (40 years) from date of issue to raise funds to be expended as above provided for the above named purposes.

The above petition is being circulated among our citizens for signatures and The News is in hearty accord with the spirit of the petition as there is need of a city hall for Glendale and a fund for good roads would do more to build up the town than anything that could possibly be done at this time. A site for a city hall can be secured without cost to the taxpayers and the location seems to be a very good one. The construction of a $10,000 public building will be a great factor in encouraging business men of means to erect business houses and engage in business here. While some may think that the amount which it is desired to raise is a very large sum, still it should be borne in mind that if Glendale is to attain to that importance which its location and many natural advantages entitle it, there must be an expenditure of much money for public improvements. Other communities that have made rapid advancement and attained material importance of a permanent nature have expended many thousands of dollars by means of selling bonds and a bond issue for public improvement in Glendale seems to be the only way to secure what is needed for the near future.

ENJOYABLE CHURCH AFFAIR.

On Tuesday evening the people of the valley were given a decided treat at the Glendale Calvary Baptist Church. Small art squares were spread over the floor and on each was placed a table filled with refreshments.

The program consisted of a song, "America," by the audience. Address of welcome by H. H. Martin; solo, Mrs. Banker; recitation, Miss Ward; "Our Church—Past, Present and Future," Mrs. J. L. Overton; "Our Pastor," Mr. J. Sanford; recitation, Mrs. Smith; solo, Miss Monroe; "Our Deacons," by Miss Carr; "The Ladies' Aid" by Mrs. Ward; "Our Sunday School," by Joe Bunker; toast, "Our Young People," by H. M. Overton; Mr. Wild, superintendent of the Sunday School, acted as chairman and toastmaster and responded to the toast "Our Friends." Much credit is given to Pastor W. F. Stone, as he had the whole matter in charge. Every one had a good time and were well fed, and expressed a desire to come again.

The church members were surprised to find the number of strangers who are moving into our valley.

F. W. McIntyre's many friends will be glad to know that he is able to be out again after his painful accident and narrow escape from death three weeks ago. Mr. McIntyre has had two very close calls from runaways within the past few months.

The Glendale Store

We were so busy last week and time slipped by so rapidly that we forgot to change our advertisement, and we're "busy yet."

The benefits of our consolidation are becoming more noticeable every day. We are systematizing our stock and our work, which insures both fresher goods and more prompt service to our patrons. We are also regulating our accounts so as to reduce the possibility of mistakes to a minimum, for we realize that few things are so vexing as a mixed-up account. But if any errors do occur, please "kick" at headquarters and the mistake will be quickly and pleasantly adjusted.

Our store on the Boulevard is now fully stocked, and after its recent overhauling and a coat of white paint certainly presents an inviting appearance. We would be pleased to have our customers in that vicinity to call in occasionally.

Mr. S. Davenport is building a modern five-room bungalow on Louisia street, near Fairview avenue. Mr. Davenport is a resident of Pico Heights, Los Angeles, but will become a resident of Glendale when his new home is completed. Most of those who desire a healthful climate and a beautiful situation for a home, are headed this way.

Evidently the correspondence in these columns in regard to a suitably equipped library for Glendale has been of interest to the public as a gratifying number of residents have signified their willingness to join the one hundred to give ten dollars each as recently suggested in this paper by a correspondent. J. N. Witham offers $10 to help the cause along.

A new set of fifty books from the California state library at Sacramento has been received at the Glendale

Free Library and Reading Room. The collection comprises a splendid assortment of the best late books of religion, science, arts, ethics, fiction, etc., and is sure to offer something attractive to every class of readers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kenrick and son, Earl, from Reading, Mich., are visiting their old time friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Russell, at their home on Third street. Mr. and Mrs. Kenrick are so situated that they are not obliged to live in the east and it is a good guess to predict they will become residents of Glendale, and they are the kind of people we need here, too.

That inhuman wretch, the dog poisoner, is around and Mrs. H. C. Alken has lost a valuable dog and two fine cats as a result of this fellow's dastardly work. A man that would poison poor dumb brute should be shown no mercy when caught, as is likely to be done in this case.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

The M. E. Church at Glendale was organized October 11, 1903. On October 7 the services will be of an annual character. The members and friends of the church are all requested to be present as there will be special singing and some reference to the day in a way of rejoicing in what has been done by His goodness.

The board of trustees meets in pastor's study Monday evening at 7:30, October 1. There will be preaching at the M. E. Church Sabbath morning and evening at the usual time. Rev. W. S. Blackburn will preach at 11 o'clock and Rev. J. W. Ellis at 7:30. A cordial invitation is extended to attend these services.

The Sabbath school meets at 9:45,

Japanese Celebration

Last Sunday the Japanese of the "Nippomina Tract," three miles north of Burbank, gave a grand celebration and free picnic over sixty-five inches of pure water that was running out of the new well that has just been completed.

About 150 Japs, beside Americans, came out in tally-hos from Los Angeles to help celebrate. A. M. Okazuma gave the opening speech and S. Shubya following; these speeches were in Japanese, while N. Yamayuchi gave a speech in English and Japanese both.

The property that the Japs own is a tract of over 500 acres. The entire tract has been sub-divided into five and ten acre tracts, about two-thirds being resold. The ground is now planted to peanuts and potatoes, but since they have such a supply of water, garden truck and berries will be planted.

This land lies outside the district affected by the San Fernando-Los Angeles water dispute, and so all well was sunk. At a depth of 176 feet a supply was found, and a 60 horse power model engine pumping 60 inches of water was installed with a three step centrifugal pump. A 5,000 gallon tank is being erected for domestic purposes. In the near future a Japanese boarding school will be built and also a Japanese Buddhist church. The streets are now laid out, being 60 feet wide. A new well will be commenced in a few days and a 150 horse power engine will be installed with a seven step centrifugal pump. The tract is considered to be worth $50,000, and no American can buy land in the tract. Mr. Shi buya, a graduate of U. S. C. and editor of the Japanese newspaper in Los Angeles has erected a five room modern cottage and is living on the tract.

This scheme, the installation of the well and power plant, buying and selling of the land has been done by Chas. B. Fisher of Burbank. It was a difficult task for Mr. Fisher to undertake, but by his good management it has been most successfully carried out.

Miss Hazel Everts of Iowa, is visiting at the home of Mr. A. Satia and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lockwood spent Sunday with Mrs. Lockwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pogue.

Mr. Braken Runnel left Tuesday for Lincoln, Neb., where he has been called to enter civil service work.

The Presbyterian church gave a social in the I. O. F. hall on Thursday evening. A good time and program was enjoyed.

Prof. Hornby of Pasadena, is erecting a house on his 20 acres across from Will Ludlow's place on Providencia avenue.

Rev. Avery is attending the Methodist conference this week at Los Angeles. This has been one of the best years the church has known, and it is the desire of the entire congregation that Rev. J. H. Avery will be sent back to remain another year.

Mrs. Febronia F. De Sepulveda died at her home at West Glendale on Monday. She was 54 years old and has lived in the San Fernando valley for over 35 years. The funeral services were held at the Sacred Heart church at East Los Angeles on Thursday at 10 a. m. Interment was made at the Catholic cemetery on Boyle Heights.

Lupton-Wulff Nuptials

Wednesday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lupton was the scene of a pretty wedding, the ceremony of uniting their daughter, Miss Florence Lupton to John F. Wulff being performed by Rev. Mr. McCunn.

The entire home was decorated with a profusion of rare flowers and ferns. In the parlor, pink carnations and smilax carried out the floral effect, in the reception room red carnations and ferns, while the dining room was in green and white. The ceremony took place in the arch between the reception room and parlor, the bride and groom standing under two horse shoes which were made of white roses and smilax.

Beatrice Welley and Edward Charles stood up with the bride and groom. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white and carried white carnations and asparagus fern. Little Miss Beatrice Welley wore a dainty frock of white and carried white carnations.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts. The mother's present to the bride was a cut glass salt set which she brought from England and which has been handed down from generation to generation. Those who partook of the wedding feast which was served in the spacious dining room were: Mr. C. Lupton and family, Mr. Bettal and family, Mr. Frank, Mr. Otto, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Welley of Ocean Park and Rev. D. McCunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wulff left for Catalina and will be at home to their friends after October 15th on Mapel avenue, Los Angeles.

Glendale and Casa Verdugo Sales

James Wyvill reports the following recent sales at Casa Verdugo and Glendale: John Wyvill to William Wright, Lot 23, Block 14, Glendale Boulevard Tract for $3,000. This lot has a frontage of 400 feet on Brand Boulevard and is 315.75 feet deep. Mr. Wright recently purchased lots 2, 3, and 22 in same block and will now extend his Fairview Tract to Brand Boulevard, putting in cement curbs and sidewalks, oiled streets, etc., making it one of the nicest tracts in this section.

James Wyvill to G. C. Lamborn the north 200 feet of Lot 14, Block 13, Glendale Boulevard Tract, price $1,400. This lot has a frontage of 300 feet on Louise street and will be improved with a nice bungalow. William Wright to Sylvester Davenport, Lot 1 and 3, Fairview Tract, price $600 each. Both lots have a frontage of 56.66 feet on Louise street and are 150 feet deep. Mr. Davenport is now building a large five room bungalow on one of the lots.

L. C. Brand and wife and the Huntington Land and Improvement Co. to Mrs. M. C. Bendifen, Lot 3, Block 18 Glendale Boulevard Tract, price $1,500. This lot is a corner having a frontage of 250 feet on Campbell street and 200 feet on Dryden street and is to be improved with a nice bungalow.

A NOTABLE PARTY.

Mr. L. C. Brand escorted a notable party about Glendale in his monster 60-horse automobile on Wednesday. The members of this party were Messrs. H. E. Huntington, Geo. Pillsbury, chief engineer for the Pacific Electric; J. M. McMillan, traffic manager, and Carl Leonard, the Los Angeles contractor. The party made a trip to different points of interest in this near vicinity, but the main object in coming out was to look over the ground and formulate plans for extensive improvements at Casa Verdugo. Casa Verdugo is certainly a great attraction to the eastern tourists who spend their winters in Southern California, and the Pacific Electric people are wideawake and not afraid to invest their money in making improvements where such improvements will tend to bring an increased travel over their roads and help to build up the community through which their cars traverse. The securing of the Pacific Electric for Glendale has been the means of making Glendale the substantial little city which it is today, and it is to be hoped the company may conclude to make more improvements and extend its line to other parts of Glendale and the valley.

Miss Hunter of Santa Ana, Miss Beaufait of Detroit, Mich., and Miss Harrison of Kansas are new additions to the Senior class which now numbers 14.

The High School will be represented in the California colleges this year by the class of '06. Eula Richardson and Alta Stone at Stanford, Blanche Davenport at Occidental, Edwin Adams, Cover Melrose and Ray Goode at U. S. C. and Lucile Pittman at Los Angeles Normal.

The large number of boys in the entering class makes the prospects for athletics very bright this year. None of the members of last year's basketball team are in school but the new candidates are showing up splendidly and when the season opens the High School will put a good team in the field. The girls are already practicing and with the majority of the old team in the game we will hold down our place in the league.

THE GLENDALE NEWS

Shows Up Rotten Decision.

The citizens of Toluca, soon after Judge Gibbs' decision in the recent San Fernando water suit, had one of their number write a short review of the decision, which they wished published in the Los Angeles daily papers. Though every effort was made, no paper would accept it, showing that something was wrong somewhere. We give below the article, which we consider extra good:

The recent decision of Judge Gibbs in the water suit of the city of Los Angeles against the ranchers of the San Fernando Valley, seems to have escaped editorial comment in the Times, and we wonder why? Are not the citizens proud of it? Perhaps they are too magnanimous to strike an antagonist when he is down. Be that as it may, the people of the valley have been so stunned that they have hardly recovered from their first exclamation.

This solar plexus blow is just what any set of men ought to have who are so thick headed that the court must tell them that their homes and ranches are in the Los Angeles river; that the river belongs to the city, and that an injunction will issue to restrain them from using any of its waters except for domestic use.

That's good! The rancher may have water sufficient to cook his cabbage, providing he is fortunate enough to grow it without water. The rancher is perhaps not very much to blame for being slow to grasp the fact that he has no right to the water that lies under his land. If he bought an apple, and some big duffer would say to him, "You only own the peel and I own the remainder," he might be slow to accept that as a well settled principle of law.

The court admits that it approaches the question "with great diffidence" because of the conflicting opinions of eminent geologists who gave expert evidence. Is it not strange that theories advanced by eminent men have more weight than facts testified to by a mere tiller of the soil?

"Before and at the beginning of the trial," says Judge Gibbs, "it did not seem to me that wells one-half to three-quarters of a mile away from the surface stream could affect the surface flow of the river or be in the river, but from a careful study of the case, the maps, topographic exhibits, history of the wells, and the land itself as I can give, the conviction grows on me that if the valley had been flat the river would have meandered about the center of the neck of the valley, with the saturated mass on either side, but on account of the dip of the land to the south, the visible stream is thrown to the south side, and the small visible stream is but the surface indication of a larger underground river."

Now-a-days it is not uncommon to find wonder workers on almost every hand. Toluca is no exception. Out here we have a speckled-faced boy who could tell you with his hands tied behind him that if water is allowed to run continuously into a level undrained valley it will in time become a "saturated mass," and that if it is tipped to one side it would form a "visible stream" at the lowest part; but he would be slow to say that this condition would warrant the conclusion that a great river underlaid the whole.

The court also says that "it appears that the defendants have formed a corporation for protection and defense." How audacious! Such utter disregard of a great city's rights(?) is seldom seen.

These defendants, one hundred and sixty-five in number, should have walked up to the bar (I mean the one in the court house) and been spanked, one at a time, and not cause the city to squander its treasure in fighting a lot of farmers banded together in the defense of their homes against one of the most damnable outrages that was ever perpetrated on the community. This great two-story river, the court says, has well defined barriers; the Verdugo hills on the north and the Cahuenga hills on the south. This makes the river about twelve miles wide, and yet a stream seven or eight feet wide is all that can be seen. A strange river, one made not by God, but by fine theories spun by "eminent geologists" in the pay of the city. These same "eminent" men say that the Owens river is now to be "restored to its own." A number of years ago it appears that God got a little careless and let a part of the country between here and Owens Lake get a little too hot and she buckled up and made a range of mountains about sixty miles wide, and changed the course of the river.

The Almighty is not in it when it comes to such wisdom. Toward the closing the court throws out one ray of hope for the future. "The quicker the defendants join with the city in its efforts to obtain control and distribute more water, the better for them." WELL!
